About The Village Method

The Village Method is a community-based grassroots organization with a mission dedicated to making youth unstoppable. Our goal is to operate as a conduit building capacity for social change and the advancement of Black youth, families, and community-based organizations working together to develop sustainable academic and cultural pipelines from elementary to college, from college to career, and back to their community. We do this by offering tuition-free, culturally responsive Youth Development, Family Engagement, and Community Outreach programming in the SF Bay Area.

About our Program

TVM initially engages students during the transition from elementary school to middle school to introduce them to our programs. Once enrolled in TVM's program in middle school, students attend TVM's weekly, 90-120 minute after school program in their schools. Through an Afrocentric lens, we aim to provide exposure to the arts and STEM while encouraging leadership and engagement of both student and parents.

Our middle school afternoon program takes place on the school campus and has four main components:
